

SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH TRAINING

Open to all staff and doctorate students in the University

Topic	Wednesdays, 7.00 – 9.30 pm
1. The research planning cycle	18 September
2. Paradigms of social science research	25 September
3. Using N-Vivo for qualitative data analysis (1)	9 October
4. Using N-Vivo for qualitative data analysis (2)	16 October
5. Using N-Vivo for qualitative data analysis (3)	23 October
6. Using N-Vivo for qualitative data analysis (4)	30 October
7. Causality in social science research	6 November
8. Ethical issues in social science research	13 November
9. Surveys, questionnaire design and piloting	20 November
10. Experimental methods	27 November
11. Naturalistic/qualitative research	4 December
12. Sampling and populations in social science research	11 December

How much does it cost?	Nothing; it is free.
Where is it held?	Educational Development Centre, Room N406, Floor 4, inside the Library.
What language is used?	English.
Who is the teacher?	Professor Keith Morrison.
Must I attend every session?	No; you can attend any or all sessions as you wish. All sessions are voluntary; if you register for the N-Vivo course you should attend all 4 sessions.
Are there exams?	No, there is no assessment.
How to register?	Contact Ms. Keitha Wong: ☎ 8897 2261. Email: st Wong@must.edu.mo
Bonus:	A Certificate of Participation , listing every session you attend.

- N.B. The N-Vivo sessions are a re-run of those in April/May 2013, to meet demand. Only registered participants can attend: first-come, first served. Register now!
- The other sessions repeat the research training program of 2011-12.