VI. Special Reminders

1. The M.U.S.T library is the supplier designated by publishers, students please order textbooks within the specified time from the library. The publishers found that some students bought the connect codes from unofficial channels last semester, and they all fell into a situation like connect code temporarily expired or online homework was cleaned. The publishers strongly condemn any infringement actions and hope that students can take responsibility for yourselves to purchase textbooks and connect codes from official channels.
2. Textbooks are ordered by the library on behalf of students from the publishers or booksellers. Due to the policy restrictions of the publishers, textbooks cannot be returned and refunded for any reason. Please choose your textbooks carefully when ordering.
3. According to the protection of intellectual property rights agreements, please be aware that if you possess, use or sell any books that violate copyright policies or are photocopied, you may be subject to violation of Macau law if discovered.
4. If students have any questions about textbook information, please check with the faculties; if you have any questions about ordering and receiving textbooks, you can directly email to the Library Textbook Service (library_tbs@must.edu.mo).
