Professor Jiang obtained the Bachelor and Master degrees from China Pharmaceutical University in 1987 and 1990, respectively. He earned his PhD degree from Nagasaki University, Japan in 1998. After postdoctoral training in Department of Biological Chemistry and Molecular Pharmacology, Harvard Medical School, USA from 1999-2001, he joined School of Chinese Medicine, Hong Kong Baptist University in 2001 as an assistant professor, and was promoted to be an associate professor in 2005 and full professor in 2008. He was Associate Director of Teaching Division and Director of Master Program of Pharmaceutical Sciences in Chinese Medicine. In July 2011, he moved to Macau University of Science and Technology (MUST), and took the positions of Director of Macau Institute for Applied Research in Medicine and Health, and Deputy Director of State Key Laboratory for Quality Research in Chinese Medicines (MUST). In March 2016, he was appointed as Vice President of Macau University of Science and Technology.

Professor Jiang is an internationally-renowned scientist in natural products chemistry. His research interests include natural products chemistry, metabolomics, quality control of Chinese medicinal herbs and bioorganic chemistry. In an effort to advance the modernization of Traditional Chinese medicines (TCM) research and development, Professor Jiang has devoted deeply to the characterization of the active ingredients of TCM, and elucidation of their action mechanism by using modern technologies of chromatography, spectroscopy, chemical biology and metabolomics, and has obtained outstanding achievements. Professor Jiang has published more than 300 papers in international SCI journals, which were cited 9460 times, with H-index of 57 (Google Scholar, 2018). Professor Jiang was awarded as the Young Distinguished Scholars by National Natural Science Foundation of China (Overseas) in 2007, and was appointed as Chair Professor of the Changjiang Scholars Programme by the Ministry of Education of China in 2014. His research was financially supported by the Macau Science and Technology Development Fund (FDCT), Hong Kong Research Grants Council, Department of Health of HKSAR, National Natural Science Foundation of China and National Institutes of Health (NIH) of U.S.A. He also serves in a number of important academic positions, including a member of International Advisory Board of ChemMedChem and Editorial Board Member of Scientific Reports (Nature Publishing Group). In addition, Professor Jiang also serves in multiple social service positions, including the Vice Presidents of the Speciality Committee on Immunology of TCM and the Speciality Committee of TCM Pharmaceutical Chemistry of the World Federation of Chinese Medicine Societies (WFCMS), the Vice Councilor of the Cross-Strait Scientific Collaboration Center for Chinese Medicine, and the member of the Macao Science and Technology Council.
