

Department: School of Business

Course Name Brand Management

Hours per week 3

Number of Credits 3

Course Description The brands that a firm has invested in and developed over time are typically their most valuable assets. This course aims to introduce related brand concepts and brand management strategies. After learning this course, students should get to know branding theories and how firms