

Department: School of Business

Course Name Enterprise Information Management

Hours per week 3

Number of Credits 3

Course Description This course concentrates on how the enterprise can make effective use of modern information resources. The course introduces students the in-depth studying of key issues of business information management, in associated with both the fundamentals of information management and the emerging business practices in this field. The course enables students to understand the theory and practice of information management in